

To the Honorable FCC Commissioners:

My wife and I received word recently in regards to the new broadcast service Low Power FM (LPFM). We are extremely concerned that this new service will take priority over current FM translator services, like the K-LOVE signal our family immensely appreciates and loves to listen to. We are writing to please ask that the LPFM services DO NOT take priority over K-LOVE. K-LOVE serves us as a resident of the Greater Portland, Oregon community. As its logo intimates, K-LOVE is POSITIVE AND ENCOURAGING for our family. Were K-LOVE to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster, we would be very concerned about the replacement services - in that they would not be wholesome, family-oriented programming services. We truly, strongly believe K-LOVE services are in the public interest, and provide an equal opportunity broadcast for Christian values.

Thank you very much for your time, and we sincerely hope K-LOVE services will continue to be available to us on their current FM translator services. Thank you again.

All the best,

Tom & Tamie Woginrich
